The 1967 MGGT is an original factory car and has all the original equipment. There have been many upgrades to the car: SS exhaust, side mirrors, new headliner, tires, new suspension bushings plus many others. The car has its original radio as well as factory installed O/D.

The 1952 MGTD was bought last year from a local gentleman who had it for many years. When I bought the car, I intended to clean it up and drive it. I started to clean it and to take some parts off, I have now got it down to the frame and it is ready to be reassembled. I have already bought many new parts and have had most of the parts re-chromed. This is a great project. I have many pictures of the disassembly and all parts are bagged.
